SLEEPLESS CANBERRA

BATUHAN POLATLI

Last Tuesday 21st and Wednesday 22nd of October students from Stage 3 from Mount Keira Public School travelled by bus to Canberra for their rick task which was democracy and governance.

The Senate

When Stage 3 arrived there, they went straight down to business. At the start of their Canberra adventure Stage 3 went to the National Portrait Gallery, Parliament House, the National War Memorial and more.

After the National Portrait Gallery we travelled to the Parliament House and saw the whole Liberal and Labor team in the House of Representatives in action. Also at the Parliament House Stage 3 had a tour around and it was interesting.

night Stage 3 most got few hours of sleep as "Sam said I had one hour of sleep because I couldn't get to sleep".

After the night stage 3 were exhausted because they were tired alright. So now Stage 3 travelled Questacon and had lots of fun.

After Questacon travelled Australia institute of sports. It was fun because Stage 3 went in a room with full of game like penalty shoot, skeleton and more.

After the Australian institute of sports Stage 3 were heading the way about to Wollongong they stop for an ice-cream at McDonalds.

The whole collection of Dinosaur coins

After the Parliament House Stage 3 travelled to the National War Memorial. At the war memorial there was a display about aircrafts, Hitler and more. Also there was a ceremony of an unknown soldier.

After the National War Memorial Stage 3 set to their overnight stay in their rooms. It had 4 bunk beds.

After that Stage 3 travelled to the National Dinosaur Museum they had a tour around the Museum. The Museum had a penny machine where you had put a penny swing a handle it would make a penny with a Dinosaur on it.

After the tour at National Dinosaur Museum Stage 3 travelled to their lodge and all

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find "filler" articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

"To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here."

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.
