Kids in Canberra Cause Chaos

Questacon, one of the highlights for Mt Kei-

At 5:30am Tuesday morning Stage 3 students had to wake up to prepare for a 6:30am Canberra Excursion. Students told us the bus trip was boring but Mr Boyd's tunes from the ukulele brightened up the 3 and a half trip!

The Australian War Memorial was a highlight for students! Jim (Year 6) stated, "The Australian War Memorial had many interesting exhibits on including the attack on Sydney harbour by the Japanese with the midget submarines!"

Another highlight for students was Questacon, Australia's National Science Museum. Questacon had many exciting exhibits like the free fall, a 7 metre drop and also an earthquake house which represents the power of a earth quake!

"Questacon was a very enjoyable experience, and the free fall was very exciting. The puzzles and riddles were mindboggling and fun but still the Questacon staff managed to teach us about science and nifty tricks!" Jay, Year 5.

On the way home students were singing and played many fun games. They even had a nice tasting soft serve from Macca's!

All in all, Canberra was an amusing trip but students hoped for a longer camp and more sleep!

Macca's, what's really in its food?

Fast Food cause many dangerous diseases including child obesity and early heart attacks!

A Long unanswered question. What's really in McDonald's food?

There have been many rumours that included Macca's soft serve is actual pig fat and also many rumours around their 'Special Sauce' and Burgers.

But we are here to confirm we are not even sure what's in Maccas food.

Tests that were run don't even show an ingredient that is known to human kind.
